J. M. HYSMITH

H. S. Patterson, A. G. Studer and H. W. Chambers spent the holiday on a fishing trip to the Fallen Timber creek. It is reported that they pulled out so many big fish that it resulted in the lowering of the water in the creek and they had to quit fishing. We are scared to ask them the truth of this report but no doubt they would give a good account of their prowess.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gibson will be sorry to learn that their son Milton, who was on a homestead near Swallow, was taken to Calgary on Tuesday, suffering from nervous derangement. It is to be hoped that he will soon recover and his mother and father have the sympathy of the whole community in their trouble.

The residence of Mr. Walter Scheidt was the scene of a pleasant surprise party on Wednesday May 20th, when the lady friends of Miss Augusta Scheidt in the district gave her a handkerchief shower and the gentlemen a silver shower. A very pleasant evening was spent in games of all kinds after which supper was served by the ladies attending.

From Frying Pan Into Fire

Senator Brislaw was talking to some Kansas politicians. He was discussing the action of the troops under Cornwallis during the revolution. "And in the end they became panic-stricken. Indeed, they were quite like Blanc's wife," he said. "You know, whenever a shutter would rattle or a board creak, she would wake up her husband and say 'Oh, John, there are burglars downstairs! Don't you hear them? Oh, what shall we do?'"

"But Blanc at last hit upon an idea that he thought would compose his wife permanently. 'Look here,' he said, 'you can rest assured those noises are not burglars. Burglars work in absolute silence. You never hear a sound from them!'"

The Senator smiled. "And now," he added, "Mrs. Blanc wakes up her husband in a blue panic wherever there's no noise downstairs."

Destructive Cannibal Crabs

A curiously destructive pest of Grand Cayman island, of the British West Indies, is found in certain species of crabs. They not only partake ravenously of everything edible, but their burrows do great damage, and they fill these burrows with every kind of stolen small articles.

A bulletin of Kew Gardens notes that such utterly useless objects as knives and pocket compasses are hidden away. Eggs from under a sitting hen are devoured, if not the hen herself, and so many leaves of seedling coconut trees are eaten that six to ten per cent. of the plants may require replacing in newly-cleared ground from which the crabs have been not thoroughly thinned out. Patches of thin oil in the bush become covered with vegetation after the complete driving away of the crabs.

They shut themselves underground in the early part of the year to change their shells, and for their barricades of sticks and rubbish they nip off or root up saplings three-quarters of an inch in diameter.

How to Remove Warts

Dickens' Love of Flowers

Joseph Daniels, who was employed by Charles Dickens as a gardener, is still living in London. "My master was very fond of his garden," he told a London Standard representative in a recent interview, "and four of us were employed to look after it. He used to supervise everything himself, and would tell the head man exactly where to put the flowers. Pink geraniums were the favorites, and there were masses of them everywhere. His conservatory was always banked with large ferns. Mr. Dickens was not a talkative man, but he was always kindhearted. Many of the villagers near by received much assistance from him. Every Christmas, too, he would call his servants in and give each 5s. or 10s. as a Christmas box."

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgements in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

Appropos of the mismanagement of a railroad that had gone into a receiver's hands, a certain prominent railroad man said:

"The calm and bland excuses offered for their mismanagement by the road's various heads remind me of Smith."

"Smith put in a strenuous day cleaning up his garden for the spring planting."

"But Jones, his next door neighbor, tackled him indignantly in the smoker the following morning and said:

"Look here, Smith, do you think I want all your tin cans and bones and old shoes thrown over into my garden?"

"You haven't got 'em all, old man, You've only got half," said Smith. "Brown on the other side, got the other half."

Keep Minard's Liniment in the house.

Freddy's father had been giving him lessons in politeness, but hardly dared hope that the seeds of his teaching had taken root. One day, hearing noise coming from the nursery, he investigated, and found Freddy pounding his little brother.

"I'm surprised, Freddy," said his father, sternly, "that you should hurt your little brother. Don't you know that it is very cowardly to strike one who is smaller than yourself?"

"Yes," replied the culprit, meekly, "but when you thrashed me yesterday, I was too polite to mention it."

Unconscious Criticism

Mrs. Beekman Winthrop, at a luncheon in New York, said of the 1913-14 fashions:

"I admit that some of these fashions are beautiful. The worst stricture, perhaps, that can be uttered against them was the unconscious stricture of a little boy friend of mine."

"He was looking at a photograph of a very beautiful lady. This beautiful lady wore a ball gown of diaphanous white stuff like gossamer. Her white arms were bare. A slash on the left side of the skirt revealed her white silk stockings, her little white shoe and the shoe's fastening of narrow ribbon, that ran in criss-cross sandal-fashion, up her ankle."

"The little boy studied this beautiful photograph gravely. Then he said: 'She's dressing, isn't she?'"

Pain Flees Before it.—There is more virtue in a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil as a subduer of pain than in gallons of other medicine. The public know this and there are few households throughout the country where it cannot be found. Thirty years of use has familiarized the people with it, and made it a household medicine throughout the western world.

Some Snipe

A Dublin gentleman was spending his vacation with some friends in the west of Ireland. As he was being driven to his destination he noticed a bog that promised good shooting and asked his jarvey if there were any snipe in it. "Snipe, is it, sor? Did ye say snipe? Shure, if ye went in to that bog without a gun they'd ate ye!"

I want all women to know how Dr. Chase's Nerve Food helped me.

Mrs. M. A. South

A Message to Women

From one who has learned to appreciate Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Modern life whether in the office, factory or home means an enormous strain on the more delicate nervous system of women. Whether it is the girl behind the counter or the lady going the round of society functions, the nerves are at high tension and require an abundance of rich, red blood if health is to be maintained.

Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food forms new, rich blood, it is eminently successful in curing the ailments which cause the greater part of woman's suffering and has become duly popular among those who have learned of its merits.

Mrs. M. A. South, Grand Prairie, Alta., writes:—"I cannot begin to tell you how much good Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me. I was all run down, had no appetite, and suffered each month in a way only women will understand. After having followed this treatment for some weeks I feel like a different woman, sleep well, have a good appetite and am able to do my own work, even during the time that I formerly had so much suffering. I have no pains whatever now, which is an entirely new experience for me. You may publish this letter as I want all women to know how Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has helped me, and I feel sure it will do as much for any woman."

The Good Man's Ride

When good Mr. Black came to see us out back,
He said he could ride in his day,
"Then to prove our goodwill," says Pannikin Bill,
"We'll give you a mount on the grey."

"Thank you my man, I'll be glad if you can For I'm quite at home at a trot."
So we caught him the grey that up to that day
Had succeeded in throwing the lot.

Though weak at the knees he mounted with ease,
And looked like a perfect jock.
We said, with a sigh, "In the sweet bye and bye"
"He'll get a deuce of a shock."

The grey would'n't stir, so he gave her the spur
And she gave a deuce of a bound,
And he afterwards said when she stood on her head,
That "She went ten feet from the ground."

He sat on her ears, he sat on her tail,
He talked like a threshers cook,
The half that he said when she stood on her head
Filled a page of Gabriel's book.

He swore that he would, if his harness held good,
Ride the brute on that day,
But the girth breaking short ended our sport,
And his words scorched the hair off the grey.

He said when he fell he never could tell,
Whether his leg, his neck or his arm
Was broken in two, by that brute of a screw,

THE oil fever has abated somewhat but there is still a big under-current of excitement noticeable in all quarters especially so now that other cities north and south of the province are taking up the matter of forming oil companies. It will be as well for all persons to be careful what they do in investing in oil shares; there is no doubt but that some of the companies are all right and that money invested with them may bring in good returns, but on the other hand to one company that is good there may be half a dozen that are out to fleece the public consequently it would be advisable to consult someone in whom you can place confidence before investing, some one who is fairly well posted on financial matters and whom you may do business with every day. Don't take any fellow's word for gospel truth, especially strangers who will be out trying to sell stock in some of the new concerns that are starting up all over the province.

F. Bullis President Central Alberta B. B. League

A meeting of baseball delegates from Red Deer, Innisfail, Bowden, Olds and Didsbury was held at Olds on Monday last for the purpose of forming a baseball league from the towns mentioned. D. S. Whiteside was the delegate who attended from Didsbury.

On motion it was decided that the league should be called "Central Alberta Baseball League." The following officers were then elected.

Hon. President—Mr. Michener, M. L. A.
Hon. Vice-Presidents—J. E. Stauffer, M. L. A., Dr. Clark, M. P.
President—F. Bullis, Didsbury.
Vice-President—Dr. Washburn, Bowden.

Sec. Treas.—L. H. Walkley, Olds.
Executive—F. Bullis, Didsbury; L. H. Walkley, Olds; Dr. Washburn, Bowden; H. McDermott, Innisfail; F. Turnbull, Red Deer.

All games will be called between the hours of 6:45 and 7 p.m. irrespective of train service unless mutually agreed otherwise, and each club will pay their own expenses.

Each team must make a deposit of

New Minister Ar-rives

The new minister of the Evangelical church, the Rev. L. P. Amacher, coming from Medicine Hat, to succeed the Rev. Daum, arrived in Didsbury last Thursday. On Sunday, May 24th, he preached at the Westcott E. V. church at 10.30 a.m. to a good congregation of attentive, appreciative hearers. He then drove to Didsbury in time for Sabbath school and taught the interesting class of young ladies which had been previously taught by Mrs. Rev. Daum. He was afterward elected by the Sabbath school

$10 with the Secretary of the League which will be forfeited by any defaulting team, the money to be divided equally between the teams completing the schedule.

It was decided that each club must supply a sworn list of players with the Secretary at once and future additions registered two weeks before they be allowed to play. None but registered players will be eligible to play in games and no players to be paid for their services.

Two umpires will be used at each game, each club supplying one home umpire on balls and strikes.

If the visiting team does not play on account of rain the home team to pay half the visiting teams travelling expenses.

The schedule given below will be played out and if thought advisable will be duplicated with new dates at end of season.

Spauldings Official Baseball Guide, 1914, to govern all games.

The secretary will communicate with Reach & Co. re trophy for using their halls.

This ended one of the most enthusiastic baseball meetings held for some time in Central Alberta and the outlook is bright for a good season's sport in baseball amongst the teams comprising the League.

board as the permanent teacher of that class.

At 3 p.m. and 7.30 p.m. he preached two earnest, practical sermons, which were evidently appreciated by the congregations who heard them.

He assisted in the revival meetings here last winter, and hence was well and favorably known to the most of his congregation.

Card of Thanks

Rev. and Mrs. Daum desire to sincerely thank their many friends of Didsbury and community for the various forms of surprise gatherings accompanied by valued gifts as tokens of esteem; viz., the W. C. T. U., the Ladies Aid, the Didsbury congregation, the Westcott congregation and the Spring Side prayer meeting friends.

Many are the kind thoughts and remembrances thus borne away by the recipients of these tendered kindnesses.

THE WINDOW AT THE WHITE CAT

That day she realized that she was being followed. When Edith's invitation came she accepted it at once for the sake of losing herself and her papers until she was ready to use them. It had disconcerted her to find Margery there, but she managed to get along. For several days everything had gone well. She was getting stronger again, ready for the second act of the play, prepared to blackmail Schwartz and then expose him. She would have killed him later probably. She wanted her measure full and running over, and so she would disgrace him first.

Then Schwartz must have learned of the loss of the papers from the Fleming house and guessed the rest. She felt sure he had known from the first who had killed Fleming. However, that might be, he had had her room entered, Margery chloroformed in the connecting room, and her papers were taken from under her pillow while she was pretending anaesthesia. She had followed the two men through the house and out the kitchen door, where she had fainted on the grass.

The next night when she had retired early, leaving Margery and me downstairs, it had been an excuse to slip out of the house. How she found that Schwartz was at the White Cat, how she got through the side entrance we never knew. He had burned the papers before she got there, and when she tried to kill him he had struck her hand aside.

At noon that day I telephoned to Margery.

"Come up," I said, "and bring the keys to the Monmouth avenue house. I have some things to tell you and—some things to ask you."

I met her at the station with Lady Gray and the trap. My plans for that afternoon were comprehensive. They included what I hoped to be the solution of the Aunt Jane mystery. Also they included a little drive through the park and a—well, I shall tell about that all I am going to tell at the proper time.

To play propriety, Edith met us at the house. It was still closed, and even in the short time that had lapsed it smelled close and musty.

At the door into the drawing room I stopped them.

"Now, this is going to be a sort of game," I explained. "It's a sort of button, button, who's got the button, without the button. We are looking for a drawer, receptacle or closet, which shall contain, bunched together, and without regard to whether they should be there or not, a small revolver, two military brushes and a clothes brush, two or three soft bosomed shirts, perhaps a half dozen collars, and a suit of underwear. Also a small flat package about eight inches long and three wide."

"What in the world are you talking about?" asked Edith.

"I am not talking, I am theorizing," I explained.

I think Margery caught my idea at

RINGWORM ABOUT CHILD'S HEAD

In Several Places, Blister Raised Up, Swollen and Scaly. Hair Fell Out. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured in Four Weeks.

Lorne, Que.—"My little son, aged nine years, was afflicted with ringworm in several places about his head. The ringworm began with a few pimples and as it grew worse it was one dark colored blister raised up and swelled. It was kind of scaly. The worst place was behind his right ear. It was about the size of a silver dollar, dark and swelled, the worst kind I ever saw. It used to pain so he could not rest. It looked very badly. His hair fell out gradually.

"Finally I sent for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used to take real hot water and the Cuticura Soap and that used to clean it off. Then I would put the Cuticura Ointment on the affected part. There was pus in the sores and the Cuticura Ointment drew that out and healed at the same time. We saw the Cuticura Soap and Ointment were very good so I got some more and it was four weeks from the time I started using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment till he was completely cured."

once, and as Edith was ready for anything, we commenced the search. Edith took the top floor, being accustomed, she said, to finding unexpected things in the servants' quarters; Margery took the lower floor, and, for certain reasons, I took the second.

For ten minutes there was no result. At the end of that time I had finished two rooms and commenced on the blue boudoir. And here, on the top shelf of a three cornered Empire cupboard, with glass doors and spindle legs, I found what I was looking for. Every article was there. I stuffed a small package into my pocket and called the two girls.

"The lost is found," I stated calmly, when we were all together in the library.

"When did you lose anything?" Edith demanded. "Do you mean to say, Jack Knox, that you brought us here to help you find a suit of gaudy pajamas and a pair of military brushes?"

"I brought you here to find Aunt Jane," I said soberly, taking a letter and the flat package out of my pocket. "You see, my theory worked out. Here is Aunt Jane, and there is the money from the Russia leather bag."

I laid the packet in Margery's lap and without ceremony opened the letter. It began:

My Dearest Niece—I am writing to you because I cannot think what to say to Sister Letitia. I am running away! I am—running—away! My dear, it scares me even to write it all alone in this empty house. I have had a cup of tea out of one of your lovely cups and a nap on your pretty couch, and just as soon as I is dar: I am going to take the train for Boston. When you get this I will be on the ocean—the ocean, my dear, that I have read about and dreamed about and never seen!

I am going to realize a dream of forty years—more than twice as long as you have lived. Your dear mother saw the continent before she died, but the things I have wanted have always been denied me. I have been one of those that have eyes to see and see not. So—I have run away. I am going to London and Paris and even to Italy if the money your father gave me for the pearls will hold out. For a year now I have been getting steamship circulars, and I have taken a little French through a correspondence school. That was why I always made you sing French songs, dearie. I wanted to learn the accent. I think I should do very well if I could only sing my French instead of speaking it.

I am afraid that Sister Letitia discovered that I had taken some of the pearls, but half of them were mine, from our mother, and, although I had wanted a pearl ring all my life, I have never had one. I am going to buy me a hat instead of a bonnet and clothes and pretty things underneath and a switch. Margery, I have wanted a switch for thirty years.

I suppose Letitia will never want me back. Perhaps I shall not want to come. I tried to write to her when I was leaving, but I had cut my hand in the attic, where I had hidden away my clothes, and it bled on the paper. I have been worried since for fear your Aunt Letitia would find the paper in the basket and be alarmed at the stains. I wanted to leave things in order—please tell Letitia—burr! I walked three miles to Wynton and took a street car. I just made up my mind I was going to do it. I am sixty-five, and it is time I have a chance to do things I like.

I came in on the car and came directly here. I got in with the second key on your key ring. Did you miss it? And I did the strangest thing at Fildwood. I got down the stairs very quietly and out on to the porch. I set down my empty traveling bag—I was going to buy everything new in the city—to close the door behind me. Then I was sure I heard some one at the side of the house, and I picked it up and ran down the path in the dark.

You can imagine my surprise when I opened the bag this morning to find I had picked up Harry's! I am emptying it and taking it with me, for he has mine.

If you find this right away, please don't tell Sister Letitia for a day or two. You know how firm your Aunt Letitia is. I shall send her a present from Boston to pacify her, and perhaps when I come back in three or four months she will be over the worst.

I am not quite comfortable about your father, Margery. He is not like himself. The last time I saw him he gave me a little piece of paper with a number on it, and he said they followed him everywhere and were driving him crazy. Try to have him see a doctor. And I left a bottle of complexion cream in the little closet over my mantel, where I had hidden my hat and shoes that I wore. Please destroy it before your Aunt Letitia sees it.

Goodby, my dear niece! I suppose I am growing frivolous in my old age, but I am going to have silk linings in my clothes before I die.

YOUR LOVING AUNT JANE.

When Margery stopped reading there was an amazed silence. Then we three burst into relieved, uncontrollable mirth. The dear, little old lady, with her new independence and her sixty-five-year-old, romantic, starved heart!

Then we opened the packet, which was a sadder business, for it had represented Allan Fleming's last clutch at his waning public credit.

Edith ran to the telephone with the news for Fred, and for the first time that day Margery and I were alone. She was standing with one hand on the library table. In the other she held Aunt Jane's letter, half tremulous, wholly tender. I put my hand over hers on the table.

PRESIDENT SUSPENDER

"Margery," I said. She did not stir. "Margery, I want my answer, dear. I love you—love you. It isn't possible to tell you how much. There isn't enough time in all existence to tell you. You are mine, Margery—mine. You can't get away from that."

She turned very slowly and looked at me with her level eyes. "Yours," she replied softly, and I took her in my arms.

Edith was still at the telephone. "I don't know," she was saying. "Just wait until I see."

As she came toward the door Margery squirmed, but I held her tight. In the doorway Edith stopped and stared, then she went swiftly back to the telephone.

"Yes, dear," she said sweetly. "They are this minute."

Gentleness and cheerfulness, these come before all morality—they are the perfect duties. If your morals make you dreary, depend upon it they are wrong. BABY'S OWN TABLETS

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL

Mothers, if you wish your little ones to be well, if you wish them to be bright, active and happy, free from colds, worms, constipation, and the many other childhood ailments, give them Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets never fail to make the sickly child well. Concerning them Mrs. Alphonse Landry, Upper Caraque, N.B., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets have been of great help to me in keeping my little ones well and I can recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

True Nobility

None of us have a right to look with contempt upon those who have received less than ourselves. The old motto of chivalry, "noblesse oblige," should be the motto of all who by money or social position or some special talent have an advantage over their fellows. Those who acknowledge the obligation thereby prove their nobility.

GLOBE TROTTER WITH A RIFLE

American Newsboy Afoot and Light-Hearted Takes to the Open Road

Walking, walking, walking—leaving San Francisco in October, 1912, "Pittsle" Ryan, a. American newsboy, started afoot around the world with a full pack across his back and a Remington rifle in his hand. "Pittsle" plans to cover a distance of 20,000 to 25,000 miles before his return to the United States about 1916. The anticipated excitement and pleasure as well as the educational and healthful value of the trip for a long time encouraged "Pittsle" to attempt this globe-trotting feat.

Starting his business career selling papers, this 24-year-old newsboy has pursued his calling in most of the larger cities of the United States. During his trip around the world he is supporting himself entirely from selling the local newspapers printed in the towns and cities through which he passes.

Going first to the Hawaii Islands and later walking across Australia, the "newsy" pedestrian first set foot on African soil eighteen months after leaving San Francisco. An interesting incident occurred here: One day the prime minister, General Louis Botha, congratulated Ryan on his pluck and daring in undertaking to walk around the world without either companion or financial aid. General Botha remarked on meeting the young man that Ryan was the first newsboy that had been privileged to shake his hand. "Pittsle" replied dryly, "I have met many prime ministers, General Botha."

Arriving at Johannesburg, Transvaal, one month later—February, 1914—his young soldier of fortune received a warm welcome. Again, on leaving Johannesburg for Cairo, Egypt on February 24th, many followed him to the city's limits and wished him luck.

This disciple of Weston has just started one of the most difficult parts of his world-girdling—Johannesburg, north through Central Africa and Rhodesia, to Cairo.

A Changing Custom

To the announcement in the Times a day or two ago of the death of an eminent man there was appended the statement: "His wife and family will respect his urgent desire that no outward sign of mourning should be worn." The practice of wearing mourning has long been sliding into disuse, and probably the next twenty years will see it abandoned altogether, at any rate among the wealthier classes. The poor cling affectionately to old customs.—London Times.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. How railroads often follow ancient and natural paths is picturesquely illustrated in that of the line through the Balkans, where the Orient Express rolls along almost the precise route of march of the first Crusade—that led by Godfrey de Bouillon. It is the fact that this is the natural and almost the only highway through the rugged peninsula that makes its possession so coveted.

Wheat Without Rain

Dr. McDonald, one of the London papers, tells us that in Rhodesia they are raising thousands of acres of wheat without a single drop of rain from seed time until harvest. A worse problem is the destruction by locusts and other insects. Government stations are established to register the flights of these insects, and telegrams all over the country, so that their approach may be met by rings of poisoned grass.

Rheumatism Goes Quickly Its Virus Forever Destroyed

EVERY CASE IS CURABLE

Good-bye to Rheumatism! Your aching joints, your stiff, sore muscles, those sleepless nights and suffering days—good-bye forever—your day is gone.

Sufferer, cheer up, and read the good news below.

"A man met me a month ago, and said, don't stay crippled, quit complaining, limber up." My answer was, "I'm rheumatic, I can't do it." He looked me over in a pitying sort of way and told me to go to the nearest drug store for Nerviline and Ferrozone. The combination had cured him. I was convinced of his sincerity and followed his instructions. I rubbed on Nerviline three times every day—rubbed it right into my aching joints. The pain quickly lessened, and I became more limber and active. To draw the virus of the disease from my blood I took two Ferrozone Tablets with every meal. I am well today, not an ache, not a pain and no sign of stiffness at all."

What Nerviline can do in a case like this it can do for you too. For nearly forty years Nerviline has been recommended for Rheumatism, Lumbago and Sciatica and lame back. It is the one remedy that never disappoints.

Why, Indeed

Tommy has just completed his first term at a boarding school. On the evening of his return home, wishing to impress his little sister with the vastness of his knowledge, he led her to a nursery window, pointed to a star and said:

"You see that light up there? Well, it's bigger than all this world."

"No 'tain't," replied his sister.

"But I tell you it is," returned the youthful scholar.

"Then why is it that it can't keep off the rain?" was the baffling retort.

Matter of Precedence

"Your name?" asked the teacher, registering a new pupil.

"Arthur."

"And what is your first name?"

"Brown."

"Oh, haven't you got them wrong? I think Arthur must be your first name and Brown your family name, isn't that right?"

But the small pupil was not persuaded. A day or two later he announced:

"Teacher, mother says Brown is my first name. She says I got that name when I was born and she didn't name me Arthur till three months later!"—Everybody's Magazine.

SPEECH OVER SEAS NOW SEEMS POSSIBLE

PROGRESS IN WIRELESS TELEPHONY GIVES PROMISE OF GREAT DEVELOPMENT

Now Seems Reasonable to Expect That Some Day Speech Transmission From England to America Will be Effected by the Perfection of Wireless System.

In a lecture delivered at the Royal Institution, London, Dr. J. A. Fleming, F.R.S., described the inventions which of late years have rendered possible a great increase in the distance of telephonic communication and have permitted the use of submarine telephone cables over distances previously impracticable.

The lecturer explained that in the case of a telephone wire the shortest wave length the greater the velocity with which the waves travel, while the amplitude of the shorter waves attenuates to a greater extent than that of the longer ones.

Hence when, as a result of speaking to a telephone transmitter, a complex electromotive force is applied to the end of a cable the various simple harmonic waves into which the impulse may be resolved travel along the cable with unequal speed and attenuation. The short waves travel fastest, but are worn out soonest; hence the wave form is distorted.

Advance by Prof. Pupin

A remedy for the distortion of articulated sounds was first suggested by Mr. Oliver Heaviside, who showed mathematically twenty-five years ago how waves of all lengths could be made to travel at the same speed and attenuate the same rate.

An important advance was made by Prof. Pupin of Columbia college, New York, in 1899 and 1900, when he proved that Heaviside's suggestion can be put into practical form by loading the cable with coils of wire wound on iron wire cores, inserted at equal intervals, but so close that at least eight or nine coils are included in the distance of one wave length of the average wave frequency, which is always taken at 800.

If the coils are placed farther apart relatively to the wave length they do more harm than good. Aerial lines, underground, cables, and submarine cables, can all be treated in this way.

New York to Denver Line

The longest aerial loaded line is that from New York to Denver, 2,000 miles, which permits good speech between these places, and it is the ambition of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to complete a loaded line that will render speech possible between New York and San Francisco, over 3,000 miles.

A line has just been completed between Berlin and Rome. It runs overhead, except through the Simplon tunnel, with loading coils at every eight miles, and good speech is possible over the whole distance.

In England the longest loaded lines are two trunk lines from London to Leeds, 200 miles. The general post office has now in operation 30,000 miles of aerial and underground circuits, and 45,545 miles are in the course of being loaded.

As regards loaded submarine cables the general post office has three—one to France, one to Belgium, 48 miles; and one to Ireland, sixty-four miles. A fourth which is now being manufactured, is to be laid from Suffolk to the nearest point in Holland, 125 miles. Broadly, loading has rendered it possible to double or more than double the distance of effective telephone intercourse.

In regard to wireless telephony Dr. Fleming said the arrangements are closely similar to those employed in wireless telegraphy but in the base of the antenna, or coupled to it, must be placed a microphone by means of which the speaker's voice makes changes in the resistance of the antenna circuit, the result being to vary the amplitude of the waves emitted without altering their wave length.

The difficulty is to obtain a microphone that will carry large high frequency currents. By the aid of an ingenious liquid microphone Prof. Vanni of Rome, has transmitted speech for 625 miles. Fessenden, in the United States has telephoned a few hundred miles, and Poulsen, in Denmark, Colin and Jeane in France, Goldschmidt in Germany, and Ditcham in England have covered greater or less distances.

Mr. Marconi recently carried out demonstrations with wireless telephony for the Italian navy.

The lecturer concluded by remarking that we are yet a long way from telephony across the Atlantic, whether with cables or by wireless, but progress will continue to be made, and it is possible that some day speech transmission from England to San Francisco, with one repetition at New York, may be an accomplished fact.

PRESERVING CATSUP

Government Report Says 74 Per Cent. Contain Benzoate of Soda

A bulletin from the laboratory of the inland revenue department on the examination of 70 samples of tomato catsup sold in Canada shows that 74 per cent. of the collection contains a preservative in the form of benzoic acid (benzoate of soda). In 38 per cent, dye has been added to the preparation. The amount of solids in a number of samples was very low. There are, however, no definite standards for catsup in this country and though the analysis shows a great variation in quality, none of the samples is condemned. The matter of fixing standards is to be taken up by the department.

"The present collection shows 74 per cent. of the collection to contain preservatives," says the bulletin, "in every case the preservative is benzoic acid, showing that benzoate of soda has completely displaced salicylic acid as a preservative of catsup."

"It is evident that manufacturers of tomato catsup are impressed with the necessity of adding a preservative, either to the finished article, or to the stock from which this is made. We have not as yet, forbidden the use of benzoate of soda in foods, as the evidence of its use in minimum amounts to prevent spoilage, is not harmful to health."

"Careful study of this matter was made by the referee board of the United States department of agriculture in 1909, in which it was declared that 'it having been determined benzoate of soda, mixed with food is not deleterious or poisonous and is not injurious to health, no objection will be raised under foods and drugs act to the use of food containing benzoate of soda, provided that each container or package of such food is plainly labelled to show the presence and amount of benzoate of soda.' Several state laws, however, forbid its employment in foods."

NEW VAUDEVILLE CIRCUIT

Marcus Loew May Build Chain of Theatres in Western Canada

It is understood that Marcus Loew, who became king of vaudeville through the purchase of the Sullivan-Conradine circuit, has his eye on Northwest Canada and is contemplating an addition to his already gigantic circuit by building theatres in several of the thriving Canadian cities. Loew now owns theatres in Vancouver, Winnipeg and Toronto, is building in Montreal and Ottawa and of course has big connections in the States. He is desirous of building a chain of theatres which will connect his Vancouver with his Winnipeg and Toronto houses. He first got the idea when his big musical comedy "Hanky Panky" went through the territory he is now contemplating building on. The success of the production on this trip through the Canadian cities showed Mr. Loew the possibilities. A chain across Northwest Canada would enable him to route a show in one big loop, which would cross eastward from New York to San Francisco, go north to Portland and Seattle and return eastward again by way of the chain he is thinking of building.

If Mr. Loew decides to erect this chain of theatres, he will probably establish a house in Calgary and another in Edmonton. Coming eastward, he would build theatres in Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Regina, Brandon and Moose Jaw, which would bring his show directly into Winnipeg. From there it would be easy to reach Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa, while the jump back to New York could be broken by playing his houses in Buffalo and Rochester. To erect this chain would of course take millions, but Loew is the master of millions and it would be no difficulty in financing this huge project.

California's Fish and Game

From Sacramento comes this item bearing on subjects in which our sportsmen readers will be interested: "The annual report of the state fish and game commission, just filed, estimates that the sportsmen of California spent $25,000,000 yearly in fishing and hunting in California. The commission places a value of $200,000,000 on the fish and game of California. The state game farm since 1908 has raised 4,281 pheasants, 1,095 turkeys, 2,338 partridges, 2,524 quail and 196 guinea fowl."

Says Traffic to Canada Will Decrease

The Cunard company's chairman, at the annual meeting of the company at Liverpool, prophesied the diminution of freight and passenger traffic to Canada this year. He registered that recent direct sailings to New York had even the appearance of unfriendliness towards Queenstown, but that the company would still maintain their old highly valued relations with the Irish port through the Boston and Canadian services. The past year gross receipts increased £750,000.

OUTPUT OF ALBERTA COAL ON INCREASE

RAPID DEVELOPMENT OF THE INDUSTRY IN NORTH AND SOUTH PART OF PROVINCE

The Edmonton District is Reported to Have the Largest Coal Fields in the Dominion—The Crow's Nest Pass Holds First Place in Alberta as to Output.

The very rapid development of the coal industry of Alberta is shown by figures which have just been compiled regarding the operations of coal mines in the province in 1913. Tons of coal mined in Alberta during 1913 numbered 4,306,346, being an increase of 859,997 over 1912. During the past eight years the coal output for Alberta has increased 500 per cent.

The Edmonton district has the largest coal fields, not only in Alberta, but in the Dominion. These areas are being opened up as fast as railway communication and capital make their operation possible. At the present time the Crow's Nest holds first place among the coal producing districts in Alberta, having an output of 1,849,435 tons. Lethbridge comes next with 966,020 tons; Edmonton third with 863,430 tons, and Calgary fourth with 627,461 tons. A large number of new mines were opened up during the year, mostly in the Edmonton coal field. Some of these were closed down again, on account of the fact that at the present time they are not served by railways.

8,000 Men Employed

An increased number of men found employment in the mines of the province during 1913, the total number of men engaged in the mines, both above and below ground being given as 8,608. Machinery is coming to be used more and more in getting out the coal. In the lignite field more than half the coal is mined by machinery, but no machinery is used for coal cutting in the bituminous or anthracite fields. Twenty-nine mines are using electricity. Telephones have been installed in the larger mines and are proving of great service, both in assisting the management of the mines and in obtaining assistance when accidents occur.

Mine rescue stations have been established, two in the Lethbridge district and the other between Coleman and Burnis. Others will be established shortly in the northern part of the province. The stations are equipped with up-to-date apparatus and complete appliances for rendering first aid work very readily. 221 having represented themselves for training during the year and 51 have been granted certificates for proficiency.

There were 23 fatal accidents in mines in the province during 1913. Most of these occurred in the smaller mines, where the managers are not required to hold first-class certificates and are not so conversant with the mines act.

TO LIVE IN SHADOW OF DEATH

Murderer To Get Respite From Year to Year If He Behaves

A respite of a year and a day has been granted by Governor Cox of Columbus, Ohio, in the case of Leslie Humphries, under sentence to die in the electric chair.

While the death sentence will continue to hang over the man, Governor Cox made it known that he will recommend to future governors that respites be granted from year to year, provided Humphries makes a good record as a prisoner in the Ohio penitentiary.

His wages as a prisoner will be turned over to his dependant family. The governor's action in the Humphries' case is without precedent in Ohio. Humphries killed Samuel S. Kelly of Lanark, W.Va. After his arrest he confessed that he robbed his victim of several hundred dollars. Later he maintained that the killing resulted during a fight.

Britain and United States

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice and Secretary Bryan discussed the outline of the Peace commission treaty to bind the United States and Great Britain to submit to a commission any issues yet to be adjusted. It will take a little time to perfect the new convention before its application to Britain's five great colonies, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Newfoundland, each of which have to be consulted.

Iodine for Diseased Cattle

The French academy of science has come out in favor of the use of iodine in diseased cattle. The academy asserts that iodine is a radical cure for anthrax and other ailments. Prof. Porrier said that all cattle, which showed signs of eruption on side in the shape of boils or other sores should be lanced in the sore places and a cubic centimeter of iodine applied.

Queensland Sugar Product

During the year 1913 refined sugar worth in round figures £5,000,000 was manufactured in Queensland. During the sugar season 40,000 hands found employment in the industry.

More Land For Indians

An additional area of 12,742 acres has been added to the Stoney Indian reserve at Morleyville. The land is required for securing hay for raising stock.

FARM BOYS WILL COMPETE

Twenty Prizes Will be Offered at Brandon Winter Fair

During the recent winter, J. D. McGregor, president of the Manitoba Winter Fair association, made the announcement that, in order to encourage the boys on the farm and to stimulate the breeding and fitting of beef animals for the market, $1,000 would be offered in prizes at the 1915 exhibition for beef animals fitted and exhibited by boys under 17 years of age.

This announcement created great enthusiasm among young and old. President McGregor and Secretary Smale went to Winnipeg at the invitation of the Canadian Bankers' association, when that body unanimously made the very generous offer to contribute the sum of $1,000 for the boys' competition for grade steers or heifers calved in 1914, to be exhibited at the Manitoba winter fair, March, 1915.

This munificent grant will be an annual affair and is contributed for the sole purpose of encouraging the farm boys of Canada, and, above all, to stimulate a greater and more intelligent interest in live stock breeding and fitting for market. The competition is open to the Dominion, and it is expected that no less than 100 boys will compete.

The $1,000 is divided into twenty prizes, the first being $100, and gradually dropping to four prizes of $25 each. In addition, the winner of the first prize will receive a gold medal.

WOLVERINE ADDED TO ZOO

Splendid Specimen Captured by Old Timer in the Rockies

There has just been added to the Banff Zoo one of the most important captures made in the mountains during recent years. The new addition is a splendid specimen of the wolverine, which was captured by Joe Smith, a well known old timer, who came to the mountains with the C.P.R. construction, who has never since left them, and who knows all the ways of every wild creature in his wide domain. Joe captured him in an ordinary trap, and it took four hours to get him into a suitable box for shipment from Castle to Banff, where he has been housed in one of the coyote cages next to the river.

This is the most vicious and dangerous animal in the mountains, and the hardest to capture, while he kills an immense number of deer annually. His history is less known than any of the other animals, but that he is the oldest denizen of these wilds is generally admitted by the mountaineers. This specimen is very shy and retires to the den, snarling, at the approach of night-seers, but he will become used to his surroundings in time, although there is no case on record of any of these animals being tamed, even when captured as very young cubs.

Can Write Anywhere

Sir Gilbert Parker, the Canadian novelist, has something like twenty-five books to his credit, and several of his novels have achieved great popularity. One of them, "The Seats of the Mighty," was presented in dramatic form by Sir Herbert Tree. Sir Gilbert Parker is one of those fortunate authors who can write anywhere, and under any conditions. "There are," he asserts, "times when absolute silence is painful, and then a hand organ under the window is a positive relief. Usually I write with comparative ease and facility, and if a thing does not seize me I drop it for a time. Once absorbed in a novel and I can write under almost any circumstances. One of the concluding chapters of 'The Trail of the Sword' I wrote in a railway train; two chapters of 'The Translation of a Savage' I wrote between London and New York. Some of my short stories have been written among crowds of people when I was waiting for a train."

MACHINES IMITATE BIRDS

New Invention Which Will Use Wind to the Exclusion of Other Motive Power

A new type of flying machine, the object of which is to enable a man to imitate birds in utilizing the wind to the exclusion of other motive power, was described at the congress of the Society of Savants in Paris. The invention is that of Dr. A. Magnan, and the flight it is intended to make is a kind of a continuous volplane.

After the manner of large birds the apparatus is provided with a spreading tail and two tapering wings, the wings being so placed as to enable it to remain motionless. The control of the machine must be acquired by practice, as in the case of a bicycle, and, it is admitted, this will present great difficulty and even danger.

Not Inventor of Air Brake

Although he makes no claim against the Westinghouse company, a wealthy Frenchman, named Debruges Leballif, aged 72 asserts again that in 1868 he invented the compressed air brake credited to George Westinghouse and patented it.

He presented a model fitted with a brake, he says, to Prince Jerome Bonaparte, who offered to back the invention, but Leballif's father refused the prince's offer and the invention eventually became public property. Leballif, however, made a fortune with other inventions.

DEFENCE CONFERENCE DEPENDS ON CANADA

AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND READY TO DO THEIR RESPECTIVE PARTS

Plans For a Defence Conference of Great Britain and Her Dominions Being Prepared—Empire Policy, Dealing With the Whole Situation.

Plans for a defence conference of Great Britain and her dominions are rapidly assuming form and will be complete when the consent of Canada is gained. Australia and New Zealand have already announced their desire for such a conference, and since the problem of the Pacific will be the chief topic considered by the meeting, it is believed that Canada will join the other dominions.

As a result of the trip which a parliamentary committee made to the dominions it was found that Australian and New Zealand statesmen believed firmly that the problem of the coming decade will be the maintenance of the supremacy of the white race in the Pacific. It was pointed out to the committee that Japan is making preparations to develop trade and emigration towards the Antipodes, and that there is a constant flow of Chinese to the islands of the Pacific. France has already largely increased her steamship facilities to these islands, and Germany, Holland and the United States are also active in the same region. The determination of the government to bring about the conference has been increased by reports from Sir Maurice Fitzmaurice, who has been advising the commonwealth government on naval matters and Sir Ian Hamilton, inspector general of overseas forces. It has not yet been decided whether the conference will be in London, Canada or Australia.

Dislike Churchill's Suggestion

Australia and New Zealand have not taken kindly to the suggestion made by Hon. Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, in his speech introducing the naval estimates, that the safety of these two countries was secured by the Anglo-Japanese alliance. William Ferguson Massey, prime minister of New Zealand, led an attack on the first lord in a recent speech at Greymouth, in which he said he did not believe the alliance had secured the safety of the British Dominions in the Antipodes.

J. H. Cook, prime minister of the Commonwealth of Australia, who stated the case for the dominions at greater length, said: "We are told by imperial statesmen that the Pacific is being made safe and secure, not by the might and majesty of the British fleet but by the Anglo-Japanese alliance. That raises for Australia a very serious question. I hope that Australia will always be on friendly terms with Japan and get closer to her in the relations of trade and commerce and the peaceful acts of civilization and that the treaty will continue in its present form, for I believe it to be a great power for peace; but when Australia is asked to rely on the Anglo-Japanese treaty for the 'safety' of the Pacific, a very serious situation is created. Japan is a nation whose people Australia does not admit to her shores. 'White Australia' ideals must be defended at all costs as a cardinal principle of Australian political belief. Japan civilization differs radically from that of Australia, which is compelled to see no mixing of races in her territory."

Naval Problem a Dual One

"While it is true, as Mr. Churchill said, that the naval forces could be concentrated under a United Command on the chief features of operation, it should not be forgotten that the empire's naval problem is a dual one. Not only should the imperial power be developed in relation to the world's problem, in order that there should be an imperial navy to fight in any or every sea, when imperial interests are threatened, but world-wide preparations must be combined to make it possible to concentrate forces at any point wherever the dominions have the greatest menace. Australia hopes that the imperial fleet will be so developed and organized that this country shall be in no way dependent absolutely on treaty obligations with any foreign power whatever."

"The British government is anxious for a conference of self governing dominions, including Canada and South Africa. The first Australian fleet unit is being completed, but to what point is the Australian policy developing? Mr. Churchill has departed from the agreement by which the imperial government undertook to send to the Pacific a ship for every ship put into commission by Australia. Mr. Churchill has proclaimed that ships of an inferior calibre will do very well for the Pacific. Australia is entitled to something more than that statement. She is entitled to free and full discussion of imperial defence with every unit of the empire."

England and Sweden in Antarctic Trip

It is now practically certain that another Antarctic enterprise will start in 1915. This enterprise will be international in character, in that England and Sweden are negotiating and are expected to carry it through. The plans contemplate establishment of a scientific station in Graham Land for the exploration of the surrounding area and an investigation of the whales which inhabit the southern seas.

RECALLS ORTH MYSTERY

Servant of Long Missing Archduke Dies of Broken Heart

The death from a broken heart reported of the major domo of "Johann Orth," the Austrian Archduke Johann Salvator, who quitted his possessions, and honors twenty years ago and disappeared after sailing for South America with an operatic singer whom he had married.

Herr Frans Mayerhofer was left in charge of the estates of the archduke when he abandoned his royal rank in 1890. Among the castles possessed by the archduke was one standing on an island of the lake of Gmunden, in Upper Austria. Here valuable art treasures were stored.

The castles and the treasures in them are now to be sold, and the major domo, who cared for every single possession of the archduke with reverent care for so many years, pined away and died on hearing that the treasures were to be scattered.

Family of Twenty-four

A unique scene was presented at the Immigration Hall, Edmonton, Alberta, when a small crowd of men, women and children walked into the office. All the people were of one family, twenty-four in number, and had come from Quebec.

The party comprised father and mother with three sons all married, possessing families anywhere from three to seven children. Nine of the family were eligible to take up free government lands.

Won V. C. at Delhi
Lieut. General Sir James Hills-Johnes, G.C.B., who won the Victoria Cross in India fifty-five years ago, has celebrated his 75th birthday. He won the V. C. as a young lieutenant at the siege of Delhi. He was in command of two guns when the camp was surprised by the enemy's cavalry, whereupon he charged a body of the enemy alone and unsupported and saved the battery.

Prince Charlie

A Scotsman, who died at Burghead, a little fishing village on the Moray-shire coast, was an interesting link with Prince Charlie. Mr. Jam a Petre, who was ninety-seven, received from his grandfather's lips the story of that relative's conversation with the Jacobite leader when his army was passing north to the ill-fated field of Culloden. The grandson often recalled how the older man had advised the prince to "go back and fight at the River Spey."

Roman Discoveries

Excavations at the Roman city of Uriconium, Shropshire, are revealing some interesting discoveries. In the area within the city walls the frontage of houses and a fine portico, all facing Watling street, have been unearthed, together with four wells, with cisterns intact, and also a furnace. Eighty gold coins, from the time of the Emperor Vespasian to Gratian, large wine jars, beautiful Samian ware, a unique Roman candlestick, pottery, and many other interesting finds have already been made.

A teacher in a Liverpool school

the name of his father. He seemed him she asked:

"What do you call him?"
"I call him father," was the reply.
"Well, what does your mother call

The response was eloquent of the manners of the neighborhood: "She doesn't call him anything—she likes him."

NERVOUS DISEASES IN THE SPRING

Cured by Toning the Blood and Strengthening the Nerves

It is the opinion of the best medical authorities, after long observation, that nervous diseases are more common and more serious in the spring than at any other time of the year. Vital changes in the system, after long winter months, may cause much more trouble than the familiar spring weakness and weariness from which most people suffer as the result of indoor life, in poorly ventilated and often overheated buildings.
Official records prove that in April and May neu-ralgia, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy and other forms of nerve troubles are at their worst, and that then, more than any other time, a blood-making, nerve-restoring tonic is needed.

The antiquated custom of taking purgatives in the spring is useless, for the system really needs strengthening, while purgatives only gallop through the bowels, leaving you weaker. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best medicine, for they actually make the new, rich, red blood that feeds the starved nerves, and thus cure the many forms of nervous disorders. They cure also such other forms of spring troubles as headaches, poor appetite, weakness in the limbs, as well as remove unsightly pimples and eruptions. In fact they unfalteringly bring new health and strength to weak, tired and depressed men, women and children.

A Creed for the Country

I believe that the country, which God made, is more beautiful than the city, which man made; that life out of doors and in touch with the earth is the natural life of man. I believe that work is work wherever we find it, but that work with nature is more inspiring than work with the most intricate machinery. I believe that the dignity of labor depends not on what you do, but how you do it; that opportunity comes to a boy on the farm as often as to a boy in the city; that life is larger and freer and happier on the farm than in the town; that my success depends not upon my location, but upon myself—not upon my dreams
but upon what I actually do—not upon luck, but upon pluck. I believe in working when you work, and playing when you play, and giving and demanding a square deal in every act of life.—Edwin Osgood Grover.

tably impaired by the visitations of asthma. Who can live under the cloud of recurring attacks and keep body and mind at their full efficiency? Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy dissipates the cloud by removing the cause. It does relieve. It does restore the sufferer to normal bodily trim and mental happiness.

Get Ahead of the Flies

If you have stable litter, garbage, or any sort of waste material on your premises that can furnish either food or a hatching place for flies, clean it up now.

Filth breeds flies—not in the old spontaneous generation sense, but practically. Flies breed disease, especially typhoid, infantile paralysis, and the various intestinal disorders which kill so many thousands of babies every warm season. The best way to save babies is to wipe out the breeding places and food supplies of flies before the winged pests arrive.

Not even a musca domestica will stop long in a place which denies him food and lodging. Clean up now.

AN IMPORTANT CONVENTION

The First Meeting of the International Irrigation Congress in Canada

For the first time since its formation in 1912 the International Irrigation congress will hold its sessions this fall. Interesting as this news will be to the farmers of the western provinces, it becomes still more interesting when it is known that this congress will hold its sessions in Canada. Calgary is the meeting place chosen by the board of governors and October 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 are the dates selected. This body is an outgrowth of the National Irrigation congress, which, up to 1912, confined its activities to the United States and Mexico. At the 1912 meeting in Salt Lake City it was decided to increase the scope of the organization so that it would embrace Canada. This was done chiefly on account of the great strides that Canada had made in irrigation matters and the United States experts thought that the experts of this country should be given an opportunity to co-operate in the work. As soon as it became known that the body had been made an international one the Industrial Bureau of Calgary through the Western Canada Irrigation association made a strong bid for the 1914 convention and have been successful in getting it. The secretary's office has been moved to Calgary and the plans for the big meeting are nearing completion.

In giving the convention to Calgary the United States irrigators felt that they were doing something that would be of benefit to themselves.
They realized that Canada has been making steps forward in irrigation and in some phases of the work is farther developed than its southern cousin. Another thing that the men from the United States intend to study is the reason that has caused so many farmers to leave the United States for Canada. Mr. Arthur Hooker, secretary of the congress for many years, says in an interview with a Salt Lake paper, "Even though the immigration from the States to Canada may be decreasing nevertheless the number of good United States farmers who are taking up land in Canada presents a serious problem to us and the United States delegates to the Calgary congress will make this one of the chief points of their study."

There is no doubt that few of the people of Western Canada fully realize what great benefits this country will reap from the coming of so important a body. There will be some 3,000 delegates in attendance, which, together with the representatives of foreign governments and visitors, will bring the total that will attend the sessions of the congress in Calgary well up to 10,000. Of these ten thousand there are very few that are not men of high standing in the communities from which they come. Included in their number are some of the leading capitalists in the United States, practically all the eminent irrigation and reclamation engineers, and hundreds of agricultural experts
—all hard-headed business men. It should not take much imagination to realize the splendid effect the visit of these men will have on the country.

HIS TWIN BROTHER TOLD HIM THE CURE

WHY J. C. MAPP PRAISES DODD'S
KIDNEY PILLS

He Suffered From Kidney Disease,
Lumbago and Rheumatism for Five Years—Now He is a Well Man Again.

Boleau P.O., Ponsbury, Quebec.— (Special).—J. C. Mapp, a well-known farmer living near here, who suffered from Kidney Disease for five years, is once more a well man, and in a statement given to the press he gives all the credit for his cure to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"My trouble started with a cold about five years ago," Mr. Mapp states, "and developed into lumbago and rheumatism. I had a bitter taste in my mouth in the mornings and I was terribly nervous. I was depressed and low spirited and found it difficult to collect my thoughts, while at times I was troubled with stiffness in the joints. My appetite was fitful, and I had heart flutterings that added to my fears. My twin brother, who had used Dodd's Kidney Pills and got great benefit from them, advised me to use them. The first two boxes did me so much good that I got two more, and they completed my cure.
Dodd's Kidney Pills are the right remedy for Kidney trouble."

Every person who has two or more of Mr. Mapp's symptoms has sick Kidneys. The right remedy for sick Kidneys is Dodd's Kidney Pills. If you don't know it out of your own experience, ask your neighbors.

Unaccompanied

"By the way, you were in that deal of Stockley's, weren't you?"
"Yes, I went in with $10,000."

CLEAR THE HEAD, OPENS THE NOSTRILS STOPS SNEEZING, CURES CATARRH

You Get Instant Relief by Inhaling the Soothing Vapor "Catarrho-zone."

Catarrh is bound to come with this weather. Slight colds become more offensive and sickening every day.
The inflammation extends further into the head. Soon the ears begin to buzz and ring. The head aches, the eyes pain dreadfully, the nose gets plugged up and this forces the patient to breathe through the mouth.
Vile filthy secretions are forced back into the throat, requiring a great deal of coughing to keep the air passages free. Finally, this foul matter finds its way into the stomach, causing Dyspepsia and general ill-health. By this time the patient has SYSTEM-ATIC CATARRH, which saps strength, depletes the vital energies till consumption is the unhappy result.

There isn't the slightest use in trying to cure this condition with tablets, snuff or spray. Such treatments are wholly inadequate. You must employ Catarrhozone the only remedy that possesses power to kill the germs of Catarrh. The healing vapor of Catarrhozone is carried by the air you breathe to the most minute cells of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs. Its antiseptic medication goes everywhere that air can go. No case is too chronic, no person too old—everybody that has catarrh of any kind can be cured by this grand treatment which is endorsed by thousands of physicians throughout America, who say: "The only way to permanently get rid of Catarrh is to use Catarrhozone."

Didsbury Boys Win Honors

ELLIS BARNES AND HERB. LIESEMER
MAKE SPECTATORS SIT UP AND TAKE NOTICE

The provincial High School Athletic meet held in Olds on Monday was attended by an enormous crowd of visitors from many points, especially from those places which had teams or individuals in the different competitions. Didsbury was also well represented, the town being practically deserted on that day because every person had gone to Olds to support the local High School contestants.

The events were well contested and in the sprints the Calgary High School collected full points, but in the jumps Ellis Barnes and Herb. Liesemer of Didsbury made them travel. An especial feature of the meet was the great pole-vaulting of Barnes who cleared 9 ft. 6 in. in the competition and afterwards did 10 feet.

Olds Girls' Basketball team managed to retain their title of champions after a hard tussle with Lacombe, winning out by 16 to 9. The games were supported with great enthusiasm by the large number of spectators and the handsome shield won by them was fully deserved

The cups and medals for winners are real classy things. Gold medals being given for first place and silver for second. A shield and three or four cups were also up for competition and it can be safely said that such prizes were fully worth trying for.

The following are the results of the different events:

100 yards—1, MacMillan; 2, McLaws; 3, Fraser. All of Calgary.
220 yards—1, MacMillan; 2, McLaws; 3, Fraser. All of Calgary.
120 yards hurdles (3 ft.)—1, MacMillan, Calgary; 2, Fraser, Calgary; 3, Liesemer, Didsbury.

High Jump—1, Liesemer, Didsbury, 5 ft 1 in.; 2, Fraser and MacMillan, tied.

Running Broad Jump—1, Fraser, Calgary, 19 ft. 1 in.; 2, Barnes, Didsbury; 3, McLaws, Calgary.

Hop, Step and Jump—1, Fraser, Calgary, 41 ft. 10 in.; 2, Barnes, Didsbury; 3, Liesemer, Didsbury.

Pole Vault—Barnes, Didsbury, 9 ft. 6 in.; Craig, Olds; Kilbride, Calgary.

Sinclair Bros. First to Move

SINCLAIR BROS., BLACKSMITHS, FIRST TO MOVE INTO NEW BUILDING

Some of the fine new business blocks being erected in town are now rapidly nearing completion and in a short time their occupants will be doing business in their fire proof stores.

The first ones to occupy their new premises were Sinclair Bros., the well known blacksmiths and wheelwrights, who practically completed their new building south on Railway Ave. on Saturday last. This building is of solid concrete and with the new and up-to-date machinery being installed will make the best and most complete blacksmith shop in the province. The building is 70 feet long, 26 feet wide, with twelve foot ceiling. Jim Sinclair, who has had considerable experience in the building line, supervised the whole work and his building is a masterpiece of solid construction.

Geo. Hong Foo, owner of the Imperial restaurant building, opposite the C.P.R. depot, will be open for business in his new building on Wednesday morning. George has a building that he can be proud of and one that is a credit to the town. It has eight bedrooms upstairs finished in plaster, the woodwork being finished in light oak. The lower floor comprises the public restaurant with two private lunch rooms, kitchen, a very large refrigerator; the front being taken up with the show room and a barber
